

JACKSON'S

STRONGHEART.

"Strongheart," the comedy-drama of college life by Wm. C. De Mille which plays at Jackson's this evening is now in its fourth year and has proven so successful, it is quite sure to remain a popular attraction for years to come. All theatergoers are familiar with the fact that it deals with college life; that its scenes are laid at Columbia University and that its central character is an educated Indian, graduate of Carleton, who comes to Columbia to complete his education. The sale of seats indicates a big attendance.

NEWEST NOTES OF SCIENCE

West Virginia's production of coal last year was 41,897,843 short tons, a decrease from the output of the year before of about 15 per cent.

Tests by engineers of the navy have shown that bolts with spherical heads are from 25 to 35 per cent. stronger than those with conical heads.

Esperanto, a North African product, one of England's most important paper stock materials, is about 56 per cent. by weight available fibre.

The longest telephone wire span in the world crosses Lake Wallenstadt in Switzerland, the steel towers supporting it being nearly 5,000 feet apart.

A young woman living in Middletown, Pa., has succeeded in perfecting a process for photographing on tiles pictures which are practically indestructible.

Although it has but a single dial, with a watch recently patented by a New Yorker it is possible to tell the time of day in almost any big city in the world.

To take care of the overproduction of potatoes in Germany several factories have been established to dry them for market, as fruit is dried in this country.

A few tons of stream tin, sluiced from gravels of the Seward Peninsula, Alaska, constituted the entire output of that metal by the United States last year.

French experts have developed wireless telephone apparatus to such a degree that conversation has been maintained between a warship 100 miles at sea and a land station.

Chicago's new fireboats are equipped with electric controllers by which, from the pilot houses, they may be sent ahead or astern, or their speed may be regulated.

Imperfect steel balls, unsuitable for use as bearings, are extensively used for polishing small metal articles by tossing in a tumbling barrel with a soap solution.

Improvements made by Stevenson in 1838 to an English form of tubular boiler have been the basic principles upon which locomotive boilers have since been designed ever since.

With the support of the French government, an international exposition of everything connected with aerial navigation will be held in Paris from September 15 until October 8.

By flowing molten metal through a thin, flat nozzle upon a rapidly rotating wheel cooled drum, an English machine makes metallic ribbon at the rate of over 50 miles an hour.

Shells used to carry floating targets for coast artillerymen to use in mortar practice are made bottomless so as to sustain as little damage as possible from dropping shells.

Pennsylvania produced nearly 60 per cent. of the total coke output of the country last year, approximately 15,500,000 short tons, out of a total production of about 26,000,000.

The only mill in the United States for the rolling of tungsten ore is at Boulder, Colo., but another is to be built at Round Mountain, Nev., and a third is proposed for Spokane, Wash.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES

The garbage can should be cleaned thoroughly at least once a week with hot suds, rubbed in with an old broom, and then rinsed with a solution of washing soda or lye.

When starching colored summer fabrics it is a good idea to use coffee starch, made by adding two cupsful of perfectly clear coffee to the starch after it has been boiled.

New grass stains can be removed with cold water and ammonia, and stains of long standing with alcohol.

If the stains are on goods that may fade, apply molasses before wetting.

A cake made without butter needs a quick oven, a cake with butter, except dark spice cakes and fruit cakes, needs a moderate oven, and the spice cakes and fruit cakes need a slow oven.

As a guard against accidents when a valuable vase is filled with flowers, it should first be half filled with sand, after which pour in the water. It will prevent its easily tipping over.

Herb and vegetable soups are very palatable during the hot weather, being made of lettuce, pepper grass, water cress, peppermint and chives, all mixed together and covered with mayonnaise dressing.

To remove an obstinate sediment from a vessel, pour in half a cup of vinegar and put into this a heaping tablespoonful of salt. Let stand half a day and then wash with warm water and soap.

Continual scrubbing with a brush will roughen a natural wood kitchen table. It may be cleaned even better without roughening by using half a cut of lemon, and then rinsing with hot water.

When ice water is not available, water may be cooled by placing it in a tin vessel and covering with a coarse wet cloth. Place it possible where a breeze will blow upon it. It will cool by evaporation.

Equal parts of turpentine and ammonia will remove paint from clothing. Soak the spot in the mixture and then rub it hard, dip in soap suds and rub it again. Almost any paint stain can be removed in this way.

To make candied cherries, clip half the stem from each cherry, prick a hole in each with a clean needle, place in a wide-mouthed bottle, put in a liberal quantity of crushed rock candy, fill with brandy and seal.

Stale sponge cake soaked in sherry, used as a lining of a baking dish, and the center filled with sliced and sugared peaches, makes a delightful baked pudding. When it is baked cover the top with meringue, brown delicately. It should be eaten cold with cream.

When watermelons and cantaloupes are lacking in sweetness they may be served in the following way: Cut out the center, remove the seeds and cut into moderately small pieces. Place these in a bowl and put in bits of chopped ice. Pour mayonnaise dressing over them and serve.

Cherry tapoca is an appetizing dish. After soaking the tapoca in water and pitting the cherries, drain the juice into the tapoca, add a cup of sugar, a level teaspoonful of salt and cook in a double boiler until the tapoca is clear. Add the cherries, cook fifteen minutes and chill.

The following mixture makes a brain bath that adds refreshment to the bath: A pound and a half of new bran, three-quarters of a pound of almond meal, eight ounces of powdered orris root and five ounces of grated castle soap. Make the bags five or six inches square and fill each with three tablespoonfuls of the mixture. The quantity given will supply seven bags.

BEEF PRICES SOAR
AND GOING HIGHER

Some Blame Trust and Others Say There's Real Shortage in Chicago

Porterhouse Retailers at 28c

New York, Sept. 11.—The wholesale price of beef has advanced 2 cents a pound over the highest previous figures for September for the last seven years, and the end of the rise is not yet in sight, declare wholesalers. The advance up to yesterday had not affected the wholesalers here, who sold their beef to retailers for the same price as usual.

The upward tendency seems to hold, however, the wholesalers say, and they assert that they will have to raise their prices in a day or two, even to old customers. It is possible, they say, that porterhouse steak will presently cost 36 cents a pound.

In explanation of the rise, wholesalers say that there isn't as much rough beef coming out of Chicago as there should be at this season of the year. For several weeks Chicago, they say, has been charging from 1 to 2 cents more for rough beef than in the summer.

Asked why Chicago hasn't as much rough beef to sell as usual, the wholesalers advance various explanations. Some say the Beef Trust has arbitrarily raised the price; others say that Western cattlemen are holding back their stock. Still others declare that the demand for beef is outrunning the supply.

The only kind of beef that appears not to have gone up is that of Texas and Wyoming cattle, always the cheaper grades. Corn-fed cattle, which furnishes the best beef, are now very scarce. That quality of meat is now selling for 12 cents a pound at wholesale. The beef of Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky cattle, the next best, is bringing from 9 1/2 to 10 cents a pound.

The tariff on imported beef was reduced by 25 per cent. by the last tariff law, but that does not offer any relief to American meat men. The rate under the Dingley tariff was 2 cents a pound; now it is 1 1/2 cents a pound.

The rise had already begun yesterday at all except favored retailers. Porterhouse steak, which has been selling for 25 cents a pound, advanced to 28 cents, and sirloin that had been selling for 20 cents was raised to 22 cents.

SABIN SEEKS DIVORCE

Charles L. Sabin, who resides at 248 Gregory street, has brought divorce proceedings in the Superior court against his wife, Martha Henry Sabin, alleging desertion. The couple were married in this city Nov. 25, 1895. The alleged desertion took place Feb. 1, 1905.

Weather Indications

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, Sept. 11.—For New Haven and vicinity: Fair and cooler to night and Sunday.

The storm which was central over Ohio yesterday morning moved eastward passing over this vicinity yesterday afternoon and last night and is now central near Nantucket. It is followed by an area of high pressure central over Michigan that is producing cool, pleasant weather in the central section. This is followed by a storm area that is central over North Dakota. Conditions favor of this vicinity fair and cooler weather.

CIGARMAKER ENDS LIFE BY INHALING GAS

New Haven, Sept. 11.—By inhaling illuminating gas in his room on the top floor of the house at 186 Scranton street last evening Robert Brenneke, fifty-five years of age, cigar maker by trade, ended his life. Brenneke lived with two unmarried daughters in the Scranton street house and he was very fond of smoking cigars. Both daughters returned from a visit they had been making. They notified Patrolman Smith of the Howard avenue police station and he summoned an ambulance. The man was in a dying condition, however, and despite all that could be done for him he died before the ambulance arrived.

DIPLOMATS HELD UP BY THE POLICE AS BURGLAR SUSPECTS

(Special from United Press.)
Manchester, Mass., Sept. 11.—Held up by the police on suspicion of being the burglars who got into the safe at the cottages of Amory Elliot and J. A. Brooks here, two Brazilian diplomats, Manuel Monteiro and Antonio Monteiro, were very peevish to-day. They are Secretary J. De Lima Kelsch and Counselor R. De Lima E. Silva of that legation.

In the search for the burglars, the two diplomats were held up in the center of the town and only allowed to go after a severe beating. Monteiro declared the police would hear more of the matter and that the State Department would see to it that their sullied honor would be cleansed of the stain.

Deaths and Funerals.

Peter Gray, a life-long resident of the South End, died at his home, 292 Railroad avenue, last evening, after a brief illness. For the past 25 years he had been a trusted employee of the General Chemical Company. He is survived by two sons, William and Richard, the latter a well known marketman, two daughters, Catherine and May, the latter the wife of Attorney Harry P. Lyons, two sisters, Mrs. Mary G. Beatty and Mrs. Peter Dougherty of Lee's Island and one brother, Michael. The deceased was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him, and his wide circle of friends who knew him as a true and staunch friend will regret to hear of his demise.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen M. Cook was held this afternoon at 2:30 from the residence of her brother, Francis W. Marsh, 852 Park avenue. Rev. Mr. Richardson of the First Presbyterian church officiated. The remains were taken to New Milford for interment.

The funeral of Ernest E. the nine months' old son of George A. and Grace M. Corsa Clark was held yesterday afternoon from the home of the grandparents of the deceased, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Clark, 1098 Stratford avenue. Rev. Mr. Malcolm of the First Evangelical church officiated. Burial was in Park cemetery.

The funeral of Patrick McNamara who died at St. Vincent's hospital, Wednesday, was held to-day from his late residence, 89 Crescent Elbow, Rev. Earl H. Kenyon officiated. Interment was in Lakeview cemetery.

FASHIONS AND FADS

Sleeves are now tight fitting only at the wrist.

Many draped hats are being shown for the early fall.

Figured goods show signs of popularity for the autumn.

Slender girls still cling to the charming empire style.

As coats grow longer, skirts, for some reason, grow shorter.

New Paris gowns show a revival of the puff at the sleeve elbow.

There seems to be a revival of colored linings for sheer gowns.

Heavy corded moire is a material that will be much seen this fall.

Spotted foulard is being used for the linings of motor coats.

New modes are expected to show all kinds of platings and shirtings.

Bengaline and moire promise to be great favorites in the winter costume.

The lengthening of the waist is now definite, and an accepted edict of fashion.

An innovation of the season is the use of mousseline ruching to finish silk gowns.

Gloves of the winter are to be in black, tan, white and gray and no other colors.

The reappearance of the flounced dress is one of the novelties of the moment.

Foulards will figure generously in the making of fall and winter dresses.

Cloaks of the moment and very much on the same lines as those of fifty years ago.
